The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wrasman in view of Quirk and further in view of the Prior Art of Figure 1 of the application.

Wrasman shows a molded ball valve body with oring seats 20 and stem ring 38. Quirk shows a ball with two stem rings. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used such a plurality of rings to seal the stem of Wrasman, for redundancy for example. It would further have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used cylindrical flow conduits as shown in Figure 1, in view of the readily apparent equivalence to the conduits of Wrasman. It is noted that the adjectival recitation of "three way" does not distinguish over the art in that the recited "plurality of through holes" may be found in each half of the bore 48, which extend through the surface of the ball.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
